Course: SQA Advanced Diploma in Global Trade and Business

“ The curriculum design of the SQA programme and the 3+1 academic structure attracted me deeply, not only can I experience the university campus life in China, but also can choose to study abroad in the final year of the desired university to complete further study, experience a different humanities and academic atmosphere, which is in line with the goal of personal all-round development. [...] After three years of study in China, I deeply experienced that SQA's curriculum does not just stay on book knowledge, in fact, SQA has made a lot of special design and arrangement in close to the daily life and future work scenarios, which is very fascinating.
